School Tax Rate For Coming Year To Remain Same

School Board Decides Upon
Budget At Meeting
Last Night

TAX MILLAGE TO BE FIXED AT 15

Bonds Now Coming Due
Will Be Re-funded As
Was Done Year Ago

There will be no increase in the New Castle school tax millage for the coming school year. In spite of reduced assessments and increased cost of operation the budget committee of the New Castle School Board has built a budget calling for a levy of 15 mills for the coming year.

Keeping within the 15 mill levy has been accomplished in several ways. First, all teachers salaries will be twenty per cent under the Edmond's Act basis just the same as they have been the past two years. Authority for the 20 per cent reduction has been asked of the Department of Public Instruction and will probably be granted. No increments will be given many teachers this year, which is the same action as that of the past two years.

Re-Fund Bonds

The board will refund $60,000 worth of bonds due this year which stays the necessity of payment in this sum for the present. In addition, the exonerations which will be necessary for the year are reduced from $60,000 to $50,000, and the board believes that due to the Home Owners Loan Corporation many thousands of dollars of delinquencies will be paid.

Wright Arrested In Oklahoma Raid

(International News Service)
SAPULPA, Okla., Mar. 15.—Glenn Roy Wright, suspected robber and murderer, and five other men and three women, were arrested in a raid today at Mannford near here.

Wright is believed to have been a former confederate of Harvey Bailey, now serving a life sentence in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan., for the kidnaping last summer of Charles F. Urschel, wealthy Oklahoma City oil man.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Young Pa Newc saw a man standing on the corner of East Washington and Mill streets, wearing a "buxedo", Wednesday afternoon.

Pa Newc was told today that this sign meets motorists' eyes as they approach the Croton avenue hill where workmen are lining the steep hillside with stone: "Playground—Drive Slow."

That income tax? You know it's got to be in by midnight tonight—after that Uncle Sam will penalize you!

Probably the largest convention New Castle will welcome this spring is the annual conference of Rotary clubs of the 33rd district—it's estimated that 1,000 will attend it. May 9, 10 and 11 are the dates, and the Cathedral, without a doubt, will be the convention scene. Well, New Castle's Rotarians, aided by district officers, are working out a program which it is not likely those who attend will soon forget. J. Lee McFate is the general chairman.

Ice bills for many rural residents about the county will drop sharply this year because they've taken advantage of the ice afforded on frozen ponds or lakes about their place. At one of the larger lakes, were told, they cut and placed 12 tons of it in storage.

SECRETARY DERN REQUESTS LINDBERGH TO RECONSIDER

Sends Message Seeking Favorable Action By Flier On Appointment

Secretary Declares Lindbergh Is Under Misconception As To Services

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—Spurred in his efforts to enlist Col. Charles A. Lindbergh to serve on a super-board to study the operations of the Army Air Corps, Secretary of War George H. Dern said today he had telegraphed the noted flier to reconsider his refusal to accept the appointment.

In his telegram refusing Dern's invitation, the colonel took occasion to lambast the administration the second time for cancelling the air mail contracts held by commercial companies and ordering the army air corps to carry the mail. Lindbergh is technical adviser for one of the companies whose contracts were suspended February 19 by Postmaster General Farley.

Dern announced today the special board, headed by Maj. Gen. H. A. Drum, deputy chief of staff, would proceed with its work despite Lindbergh's action.

Other Experts To Be Asked

He said he planned to invite other "aeronautical experts" to join the committee but declined to name the parties he was considering.

The renewal of the flier's controversy with the administration over the air mail situation, which started February 11 when he sent a telegram to President Roosevelt criticizing the wholesale cancellations as "un-American," appeared

Weather Enters Into Borrowing By U. S. Treasury

Should Weather Conditions Improve Treasury May Increase Authorization

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—Old Man Weather is one of the principal factors in the treasury's borrowing April 15.

The middle of next month $1,000,000 in 4-4 percent fourth Liberty bonds mature, having been called by the treasury.

Officials explained today that if weather conditions were favorable for outdoor work and an opening up of the government's recovery activities it would be likely that probably a billion dollars in addition to the liberty bond maturities would be authorized.

It had been anticipated that the March 15 refinancing would amount to about $1,500,000,000 in the face of a maturity of $460,000,000. However, officials explained that owing to unfavorable weather conditions outdoor work had been delayed. As a result the new issues of four year three percent notes were confined to the maturity of $460,000,000 in certificates.

Lindbergh Will Give Testimony

Will Give Views On Air Mail Legislation To Senate Committee

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh who refused to be a member of a special board established by the secretary of war to make a study of the army air corps, today agreed to give his views on permanent air mail legislation to a Senate committee.

The Senate committee on post office and post roads reported receipt today of the following telegram from the colonel:

"I will be glad to appear Friday." The committee is headed by Senator McKellar (D) of Tennessee and is considering the administration bill that would legislate the return of the air mail to commercial aviation on a new basis.

Charles D. Chamberlin, Capt. Eddie Rickonacker and Brig. Gen. William Mitchell, former assistant chief of the army air corps, also were invited to state their views before the committee.

Shouse Refuses To Again Turn State's Evidence

Case Against Dillinger Gang Member At Lima Suffers Severe Blow

(International News Service)
LIMA, O., Mar. 15.—A rocking blow was dealt the state here today in the first degree murder trial of Charles Makley, a member of the kill-crazy Dillinger gang, when word was received that Edward Shouse, who turned state's evidence in the trial of Harry Pierpont, refused to be brought to Lima to testify a second time.

In the case of Pierpont, who was convicted as the "trigger man" in the slaying of Sheriff Jess Sarber, the state's attorneys had counted upon the testimony of Shouse to aid in their efforts to obtain a conviction against Makley.

No information was received here as to why Shouse suddenly decided not to testify in the trial of Makley, according to County Prosecutor E. M. Botkin.

(International News Service)
HONG KONG, Mar. 15.—An ordinarily minor fault in one of the American gunboat Fulton's Diesel engines, causing a small explosion but igniting a supply of highly inflammable oil, was blamed by Commander Harry McHenry today for the rapidly spreading fire which destroyed the ship on patrol duty yesterday.

Commander McHenry accorded the highest praise to Commander Todd and the crew of the British Destroyer Wishart who, in a 35 minute struggle with the burning ship and a rough sea, rescued all 187 of the Fulton's officers and men.

Eight Injured

Although only three men were at first believed to have been hurt as the Fulton burned, five more today were revealed to have sustained injuries. The eight were rushed to a Hong Kong hospital where the condition of one of the men, having

Ratification Of World Court Plan Delayed For U. S.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—Administration leaders abandoned all hope today for early ratification of the revised world court protocol in view of the senate's overwhelming rejection of the St. Lawrence waterway treaty.

The senate's action was interpreted by both friends and foes of the Canadian pact as revealing a deep-rooted opposition to any treaty, assailed as yielding American rights at this time to foreign interests. Administration leaders frankly blamed existing economic conditions for the treaty's rejection, as much as the issues raised by the opposition.

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 15.—Ending a confinement of more than three months because of a nervous breakdown, Leonard B. Shannon, former president and conservator of the Jefferson county National Bank at Brookville, quietly left Misericordia hospital here last Monday afternoon, it was learned today.

The former bank official had been in the hospital since last November. The bank he once headed is undergoing an audit by the federal government which is investigating a shortage of approximately $200,000.

Stirring Defense Of Army Air Corps Is Made By Chief

Gen. Foulois Declares Air Mail Flying Serves As Real Test

SAYS FLYING IS DANGEROUS TASK

Cites Fatalities Of Recent Years; Pleads For Complete Equipment

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—A stirring defense of the army air corps' efforts to fly the mail was made today by Major General Benjamin D. Foulois, army air chief.

In a statement issued through the War Department, General Foulois declared that America's military air service, in order to be an efficient national defense unit, should be equipped and trained to meet an emergency, such as handling the mail, on 24 hours notice.

Foulois warned that if the United States is to have an efficient military air service, the public must be prepared for further fatalities.

Real Test

"The opportunity afforded the army air corps to carry the air mail, with but approximately 10 days in which to prepare, constituted, in my belief, an ideal peacetime test of the army air corps organization, equipment and training, and as chief of the army air corps I freely, frankly and without reservation welcomed this opportunity," Foulois said.

"The hazards involved in carrying the air mail are not, in my belief, as great as those normally encountered annually by the army combat pilots in the normal performance of their duties," Foulois added.

"It may be of interest to know that during the fiscal year 1933 our fatalities were 50; during 1933 they were 46, and for the current fiscal year, to include March 13, 1934, they have been 39.

"However, there still remains

Parole Given Dillinger Is Being Probed

(International News Service)
CROWN POINT, Ind., Mar. 15.—The parole which freed John Dillinger from the state penitentiary last May became the leading issue today before the grand jury investigating the sensational escape of the notorious desperado from the county jail here.

By executive order of Gov. Paul V. McNutt, Dillinger was paroled May 22, 1933, after serving eight years of a 10 to 20-year sentence for robbery. While eligible for parole in point of years served, the desperado had a poor prison record, having been in and out of the state penitentiary several times.

Dillinger fled the supposedly escape-proof county jail here by cowering more than a score of guards and fellow prisoners with a toy pistol which he had whittled from an old washboard. The desperado is still at large in spite of a nationwide hunt.

His home was in Doylestown, shot himself last night in his office here.

No Camp Site Leases On Pymatuning Lake Available For Year

(Special To The News)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Mar. 15.—No camp or recreational sites will be leased by the commonwealth at the Pymatuning reservoir in Crawford county for at least a year as a result of action taken by the State Water and Power Resources board at a recent meeting in Harrisburg, Lewis E. Staley, secretary of the department of forests and waters and chairman of the board, announced today.

Flooding of the 16,400-acre reservoir began on January 23. Until the lake is filled it will not be in the public interest to open up the surrounding territory for recreational use, Secretary Staley said. In the meantime a detailed program for the recreational development of the area, to make available the full recreational possibilities of the lake, its islands, and shore to the general public, is being prepared under the direction of Chief Engineer Charles E. Ryder.

Dr. Sipe, Butler Historian, Discusses Them In Address Last Night

WOODS CHOSEN AS CHAPTER PRESIDENT

Declaring that Pennsylvania school children know far more about New England's early history than they do of Pennsylvania's chiefly because, as he openly charged, "present history textbooks do not adequately treat the part Pennsylvania played in the formation of this great American union," Dr. C. Hale Sipe, Butler historian, lecturer and lecturer, appealed to the New Castle chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution last night to take a stand against "condoning the use of history which fail to tell the complete historical story."

Dr. Sipe, speaking at the S. A. R.'s annual banquet in the Elks Club, told his auditors that a campaign to place more adequate history books in the schools is already under way at Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Harrisburg.

The informative message of the Butler historian, nearly two hours long, came following the regular annual meeting of the Sons under the (Continued On Page Two)

Defendant In Murder Trial Goes On Stand

Starts Telling Life Story To Jury Shortly Before Noon Recess

TELLS OF MEETING GIRL AT CHURCH

Mozesz Seems Undisturbed As He Relates Facts Preceding Shooting

John Mozesz took the witness stand today in his own defense on the charge of killing of Rose Balogh on January 12. At 11:25 he took the oath and seated himself in the witness chair for what will probably be a long ordeal. At the noon recess he had testified only to incidents leading up to the shooting.

Mozesz makes a surprisingly good witness for himself. In the United States less than four years he has acquired a command of the English language that is rather unusual and his testimony is delivered in a calm, well modulated voice. At times he has to be cautioned to speak loud enough for the jury to hear and only when there is some detailed explanation to make does he resort to the interpreter, Rev. Andor Harsanyi.

Born In New Castle

With his counsel S. L. Clark questioning him Mozesz told the following story in the half hour he was on the stand before noon.

"I was born in New Castle Oct. 3, 1910. In 1913 my father and mother separated and my mother took me back to Hungary. I lived there until April 1930 when I came back to the United States. At that (Continued On Page Two)

among the following developments:
1. Senate voted Mr. Roosevelt's request for a $10,000,000 fund to be expended at his discretion for "improvement, development and augmentation of military aviation."

2. Senate passed the administration bill, already passed by the house, authorizing the army air corps to carry the mails for a period not in excess of one year. It is now before the house for consideration of senate amendments.

3. Army mail airplanes remained on the ground while Maj. Gen. Benjamin D. Foulois, chief of the army air corps, is making a thorough check of the corps' equipment and personnel at Mr. Roosevelt's order.

4. Senate committee on post office and post roads decided to ask Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh.

Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, war time ace, Clarence D. Chamberlain, who twice flew the Atlantic, and Brig. Gen. William Mitchell, chief of the A. E. F. army fliers, to give testimony on the administration's bill to legislate the return of the air mail to commercial aviation.
Contractors whose contracts were cancelled were also invited to appear.

Lindbergh's Attitude

Lindbergh stated in his "ire that he felt he could not serve on a committee "whose function is to assist in following out an executive order to the army to take over the commercial air mail system of the United States."

Dern said the colonel was under a "misconception" that the committee's study would be confined to the army's handling of the air mail.

Dern sent the following telegram to Lindbergh early today:
"Your telegram indicates a misconception of purposes of committee on which I asked you to serve.
I desire a comprehensive study of army aviation in which carrying air mail will figure only incidentally as a lesson in determining the efficiency or shortcomings of army air corps, regarding which the public is bewildered so far as national defense is concerned. I am sure your counsel would be very valuable."

Lindbergh Silent

NEW YORK, Mar. 15.—Notwithstanding a telegram from Secretary of War Dern, asking reconsideration of his refusal to serve on a civilian-military board to investigate army aviation, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh remained silent today.

He advised Washington by telegram that he would be "glad" to appear before a senate committee and give his views on permanent air mail legislation, but gave no intention of replying to Secretary Dern's plea for reconsideration of his refusal to serve on the board.

He declared that in a national emergency, involving the invasion of the United States by any foreign power, there is "reasonable probability" that the first line of national defense will include the air forces as well as the sea forces of the nation.

"With this probability in mind," he added, "the air forces of our country should be as fully and completely organized, equipped and trained in time of peace as our navy."

"Much has been said during the past three weeks regarding the army air corps mail operation.
In connection with these operations
I wish to state what I believe to be the major military peace time mission of the army air corps. That mission may be stated as follows:
"The army air corps must be completely organized, equipped and trained to meet any national emergency upon 24 hours notice."

"Peace time tests, to be of any real value, should be carried out under conditions simulating war conditions, in order to discover ev-organization, equipment and training and to correct such weakness before a national emergency is up-

Canal To Lake Plan Uncertain

Beaver-Mahoning Canal
Plan Has Been Given
Approval

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 15.—Decision as to whether a Lake Erie-Ohio river canal will be constructed will not be made until a report is made by Colonel Roger Powell some time in

He admitted, however, that after

These disclosures were made at agree upon a program. The president has threatened to veto the bill as it passed the senate.

The house cut the cost of the senate amendments, which the leaders charged wrecked the economy program adopted in the special session, from $350,000,000 to an estimated $250,000,000 in the next year.

While it went beyond the proposals made by administration leaders of the senate in their compromise, the house modified the Steiner-McCarran amendments in behalf of veterans.

Restoration of five per cent of the 15 per cent federal pay cut as of February 1 and another five per cent on July 1. Senate voted full restoration.

Tossed out Borah amendment which retained the 15 per cent pay cut for salaries above $6,000. This members of congress would have restored 10 per cent, or $1,000 a year, and after July 1 their salaries would be $9,500 a year—a $500 cut under the regular salary.

Restored Spanish-American war veterans and dependents to rolls at 75 per cent of rate paid March 19,
1933, estimated to cost $80,000,000.
Senate restored them at 90 per cent.
The house proposal would give a $45
a month pension to a totally disabled veteran.

Restored World war veterans with service-connected illness to the rolls at previous rate basis, which was changed by executive order. Estimated to cost $30,000,000 a year.

Restored 29,000 World war presumptive cases to rolls at cost of $10,000,000 a year. The administration insisted they be restored only pending decision of cases on appeal.
Estimated senate amendments providing for double pension for dependents of victims of Akron, Shenandoah and J-3 airship disasters and lesser changes.

HISTORIES SCORED AT S. A. R. BANQUET

direction of their vice president,
County Commissioner Franklin R.
Woods.

Elect 1934 Officers

New officers for the coming year were named with Commissioner Woods succeeding Ralph C. Mc-Goun to the presidency; Dr. W. Fulton Jackson, vice president; C. Le-Roy Hughes, secretary; William W.
McCombs, treasurer; Frances G.
Simonton, historian; Rev. Philip C.
Pearson, chaplain, and Attorney
Homer C. Drake, registrar.

Chapter business was talked but briefly following the election. Former State President E. F. G. Harper, now a national trustee in the S.
A. R. of Pennsylvania, announced that chapters from all over the district will gather in Pittsburgh on March 23 to honor the Sons' president general. Selection of a delegate to the national convention at Baltimore later in the year was deferred until a later time. The chapter authorized that commencement prizes for Senior high students be continued.

Pennsylvania History — Its Glories and Achievements was the subject that Dr. Sipe, himself, the author of two Pennsylvania history books, chose to dwell upon last night. History writing he called his hobby.

Little State History Taught

"With the in-born love that I have for Pennsylvania history there is a genuine sorrow," continued Mr.
Sipe, "for it's sad to contemplate that so little of Pennsylvania's history is known and taught in Pennsylvania schools."

Step by step — and in a most interesting fashion — he showed how the colony of New Sweden was founded here before that which William Penn headed, and he said the Swedish colony is entitled to recognition inasmuch as it first established religious liberty here. Dr.
Sipe went on to show how the religious freedom provision of the country's constitution was purely a Pennsylvania contribution. Of Governor John Printz, the Swedish colony's first governor, he spoke, and he referred to John Hansen, a branch of the family, who preceded Washington as president of the United States. Dr. Sipe said history shows that General Washington regarded Martin as "the highest executive officer in the country" when he returned from battle at Yorktown.

Presented for the annual dinner
were the following: Franklin R.
Woods, Harold D. Harlan, Earl Kyle
E. F. G. Harper, W. J. Caldwell,
Homer C. Drake, C. LeRoy Hughes,
A. H. Fullerton, Dr. W. Fulton
Jackson, William W. McCombs, Dr.
J. R. Cooper, H. A. Wilkinson, Herb
D. McGoun, D. A. Evans, Ellwood
City, and Bruce Ewing, The News.

time I was unable to speak any English whatever."

"When I first came back I went to Ellwood City and stayed there until August when I went to Pittsburgh, California, where my father works in a tin mill. I got a job there and worked in the mill until I came to New Castle late in July, 1933."

"I secured rooms and board at the home of John Cifo on East Reynolds street. Shortly after I came the Cifos invited me to an ice cream social at the corner of East Reynolds and Mill St. Previously Mrs. Cifo had said she was going to introduce me to a nice girl.
I went with Rose to the social and there saw Rose Balogh for the first time."

Introduced to Cifo
Moses Cifo introduced me to Rose and she shook hands and later she went home. The next day Moses Cifo and I went to the store where she worked and bought some fish.
I merely said hello to her but Cifo talked to her. On Sunday I asked Moses Cifo to go up to her home and see if I could call upon her. He came back in about an hour or an hour and a half and told me that he had had much chance to talk to Mrs. Balogh as she had company."

"On Monday or Tuesday, I went to the Balogh home with Moses Cifo and Rose was not there. The next day I went back and she was there. As I was leaving she asked me why I had come up and I said I was ashamed to talk about it with her mother present so she and I sat down on the sofa."

"I asked her if she had a boy friend and she said no she hadn't.
I told her I wanted to make friends with her and she said she was friends with everybody."

"The next time I went up I talked to Mrs. Balogh and she said that Rose could not keep company with a man who was not a member of the church. I was baptized in December and I told Rose I loved her."

Other Witnesses

The commonwealth witnesses were called by the defense today.
Moses Cifo being called and Dan Mozesz testifying. They added little to the testimony except to corroborate statements that John Mozesz had accompanied Rose Balogh home on different occasions.
Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard was called and said that he had known Mozesz by sight when he (Pritchard) worked in the tin mill. When the sheriff took custody of Mozesz on January 13 he said that Mozesz did not recognize him for several days but said he had seen him some place. Pritchard said that Mozesz had been shackled in bed to prevent him escaping.

DELIVER NOTICES

Inspector Henry Dysart of the city legal bureau is delivering notices to some South Jefferson street property owners today stating that paving liens are now five years old and must be paid or renewed.

Blessed are the poor. You don't lose sleep in times like these trying to think up a safe place to hide four bits.

DANDRUFF Soon Destroys the Hair

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it. Then, you destroy it entirely.
To do this, get some plain ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring, using enough to moisten the scalp and rubbing it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.
You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It won't cost you more than thirty-five cents ($35.00). No matter how much dandruff you have, this simple remedy never fails.

POLICE THWART SUICIDE ATTEMPT

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 15.—Because his record of 47 years work for the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad was marred by his participation in a strike 24 years ago, John Michael Cain, 70, was in jail today—charged with killing his wife.

Learning that he was to be furnished today without pension after 47 years as a railroad machinist with the railroad, Cain went to his home to participate in a birthday celebration in his honor. He fortified himself with liquor, and when drunk, detectives stated, carried out one-half of his plan to end his wife's life and his own.

Mrs. Green Wissing Cain, 62, was shot through her heart. Dan Fitzpatrick, 70, a friend, was wounded. He is in critical condition at Mercy hospital.

After the shooting Cain went upstairs. When detectives discovered him, he was about to fire a bullet into his head. A policeman lunged at his upraised arm as the gun was discharged. The bullet ripped into the ceiling.

AROUND CITY HALL

Sometimes one wonders how many trips the automobiles in the police department make during 24 hours. The trips vary. Some days they make two score or more trips and on slow days an average of 30. They are compelled every school day to make trips to schools when students go to their schools and leave for lunch and also return to the school district when classes are resumed and dismissed in the afternoon. Not counting school trips Tuesday the calls made by police cars follow:

Patrol Driver Richards to the tool house.

Patrolmen Richards and Thomas investigated a complaint that an auto dealer monopolized Lyndal street for parking purposes.

Patrolman Richards to the New Castle hospital.

Detectives Lynch and Moore accompanied a citizen to a local bank.

Patrolman Hilliers appeared as a witness in the Moxes murder case.

Patrolman Hanna made an investigation in East Washington street. It concerned a blind musician.

Patrolman Hanna and Detective Horner called to East Reynolds street.

Detective Horner and Patrolman Hanna scooped up an intoxicated man on a West Side street.

Police requested to watch for a fox terrier, white with black spots, weighing six and one-half pounds and one year old.

Detective Horner and Patrolman Hilliers on investigation.

Lieutenant Criswell and Patrolman Hanna secured prisoner in Center street.

Patrolman Hanna and Dukes adjusted family trouble in Sampson street.

Lieutenant Criswell and Police Matron McKibben on investigation.

Detective Horner and Patrolman Hilliers to Albert street and Glenmore avenue where boys snow-balling had thrown a snow-ball and struck a woman. Two trips.

Lieutenant Criswell and Police Matron McKibben on investigation.

Patrolman Hanna and Ross to Mahoning avenue in search of an alleged razor man.

Patrolmen Hilliers and Hanna to Central Fire station for prisoner.

Police took home a little chap found by a woman on the North Hill who said if they could not locate his home she would care for him.

The city does not have a fire alarm. A bell sounded the alarm from the East street fire station years ago. After the station was moved to South Jefferson street the bell was removed and placed in storage. Since then a siren has been advocated. Director of Safety Davies has not arranged for a whistle owing to non-activity at plants where steam could be used to sound it. It would be an excellent means of securing volunteer fire fighters services should a big conflagration break out.

Grover Syling, desk sergeant of police is a man of patience. Daily a number of persons call at his office with tags which have been distributed by police for such offenses as exceeding the parking limit, as exceeding the parking limit, and parking too near intersections and fire water hydrants. Most autoists pay the levy without argument but some ask for exoneration. In such cases the sergeant looks the autoist in the eyes and says, "You'll have to see the chief." He has no authority to excuse anyone from paying the fine for such offenses.

Police chronology for 24 hours ending 3:30 p. m. March 14, nineteen arrests on charges as follows: Violation of parking ordinance 10, drunkenness 4, keeper disorderly house 1, inmates disorderly house 2, visitor disorderly house 1, disorderly conduct 1.

Health comparison: First three months of 1933, approximately 85 cases of contagion were reported. Approximately 387 cases have been reported for the first three months of 1934, or more than for the entire year of 1933.

It is generally understood that in matters of policy the Cascade park commission lends an ear to the powers that be and if the same condition continues and no doubt it will, there will be no beer sold there this summer. No license to sell beer is held at the park.

A city policeman yesterday advanced the idea that a traffic court should be held here and that all violators of automobile laws should have to appear. In the event that the autoist did not agree that the charge was correct the arresting policeman would have to appear against the defendant. No policeman would like to break up a snooze to appear as a witness in city police court.

Come to think of it, wouldn't it be cheaper to place a rope in each cell and let the accused use his own judgment?

ASKS SCHOOL BOARD TO PAY EXPENSE CAUSED BY "JOKE"

In a letter to the New Castle School Board, Edward E. Sewell of Garfield avenue asks to be recompensed for a four dollar doctor bill expended on his daughter, due to a practical joke of one of her classmates.

In his letter Mr. Sewell said that a classmate of his daughter's had placed a bottle of acid gas under her nose in the chemistry class and while she was made violently ill. Going home the action of the cold air on her nose, throat and lungs made her worse and a physician was called.

Sewell described the incident as a "poor joke" and asked the board to pay the bill. The board voted not to pay the bill on the grounds that it was not liable for "poor jokes" or accidents in the schools.

Ohio Will Aid Waterways Plan

Governor White Asks Legislature To appropriate Funds For Canal

IS FAVORED AS WORKS PROJECT

In connection with the hearing on the Lake Erie to Ohio river canal held in Youngstown Tuesday afternoon, it was revealed that Governor George White, of Ohio, has urged a Ohio state legislature to appropriate an unnamed sum of money to aid in constructing the Beaver-Mahoning river canal.

Governor White in a message to the legislature urged the project be given financial stimulus as a works project. The money would probably be furnished to relieve the Ohio communities of the money recommended by the Army Board of Engineers.

Backers of the canal project are making plans to attend the hearing in Washington next week, when the matter will be presented to the House Rivers and Harbors Committee.

June High School Class To Present Play On March 23

Cast Of Characters Is Announced By Dramatics Director

FACES CHARGE OF CARRYING WEAPONS

The June graduating class at the senior high school has announced as the first event of its commencement season Howard Lindsay and Bertrand Robinson's "Your Uncle Dudley". The public performance is scheduled for Friday evening March 23. This somewhat early date means that to some extent this year class activities will be limited by the proceeds of the benefit play and it must be known as soon as possible what the proceeds will be.

"Your Uncle Dudley" is particularly well suited to high school production. The dialog is sparkling, the situations are uproariously laughable and the tone from beginning to end is delightfully wholesome. Under the able direction of Miss Clara Hartsuff the rehearsals are proceeding enthusiastically and there is every indication that the seniors will score another dramatic hit for the school.

The cast of characters has been determined except that it is still uncertain which of two able young Thespians shall appear as "Uncle Dudley's" niece. The dramatis personae follow:

Mabel Dixon—Church—Marion Evans.
Ethelyn Church—Ruth Wilkison, Vivian Jones.
Janet Dixon—Mary Miller.
Cyril Church—James Goodchild.

Schwartz Is Freed Of Murder Charge

Pittsburgh Jury Acquits Reputed Gambler Of Defense Slaying

FACES CHARGE OF CARRYING WEAPONS

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 15.—Freed on charges of murdering the man who married his divorced wife, Irvin (Iggy) Schwartz, reputed Pittsburgh gambler, today awaited action on charges of carrying a gun in violation of the Firearms Act.

In a little more than an hour a jury found Schwartz not guilty of fatally shooting Andy Garavini, Pittsburgh hacker, shot down in a gun battle between the two men here last fall. Schwartz testified he shot Garavini in self-defense. His defense was aided by Garavini's widow who formerly was Mrs. Schwartz.

She now faces charges of perjury filed against her by the district attorney's office because her testimony at the trial disagreed with that given by her at a corner's inquest.

COLLEGE GETS MILLION

(International News Service)
BERKELEY, Calif.—Donation of $1,000,000 for the construction of a combination Little Theater and museum for the University of California was announced today by Dr. Monroe Deutsch, vice-president of the university. The persons making the donation asked that his name not be made public. Work on the structure will start next year.

Cannot Cancel Contracts; Then Re-Hire Teachers

Answering a communication from the New Castle School board the Department of Public Instruction notified the local board Wednesday night that no board was permitted to cancel the contracts of all teachers and hire them over at a reduced salary. The query was sent when it was found that one board was attempting to take such action.

"To do such a thing would violate the spirit of the Edmonds Act," said the department, "and as long as a teacher is in a school system she is entitled to all legal increments."

The letter does not apply to the temporary holding in abeyance of increments granted to teachers. No increments were granted last year and none will be granted this year.

Special Session Of School Board Set For April 2

Conforming to the school code, the New Castle School board will meet in special session on April 2 to set the tax levy for the coming year. While the board accepted the recommendations of the Budget committee on Wednesday night, and the tax levy will be 15 mills, the formal action setting such a rate cannot be had until the meeting of April 2.

On April 10 the board will elect a superintendent and as the regular meeting falls on the following night it was decided to hold both the stated meeting and the regular meeting on the same night.

"Two things I wanted—

"...more strength and a clear skin."
It is well to remember that a probable reason why you do not have red lips, rosy cheeks, a clear skin, good health, energy and cheerfulness is that your blood is in a run-down condition. Lack of hemo-glo-bin, the red-coloring of the blood, may also cause a weakened condition of the body...loss of strength...poor appetite.

Neglect of diet, worry, overwork, colds or sickness, frequently break down and retard the natural development of the red-blood-cells and their oxygen-carrying hemo-glo-bin.

Why not set in motion the rebuilding of these precious blood-cells instead of procrastinating and sacrificing your appearance and the feeling of being well and fit?

If your condition suggests a tonic of this kind, try S.S.S. It is not just a so-called tonic but a tonic specially designed to stimulate gastric secretions, and also having the mineral elements so very, very necessary in rebuilding the oxygen-carrying hemo-glo-bin of the blood. Unless your case is exceptional, you should soon notice a pick-up in your appetite...your color and skin should improve with increased strength and energy.

S.S.S. is truly a blood and body tonic. Its value has been proven by generations of use, as well as by modern scientific appraisal.

You will find S.S.S. at all drug stores in two sizes...the larger is more economical. © The S.S.S. Co.

"I found out my trouble—

"...and it was all so simple... my physician said I had no organic disease, but I did have what is so commonly and truthfully called a low percentage of hemo-glo-bin in the blood. It didn't take S.S.S. very long to get my blood back up to normal... and as my strength and energy returned my skin cleared up."

Grover Syling, desk sergeant of police is a man of patience. Daily a number of persons call at his office with tags which have been distributed by police for such offenses as exceeding the parking limit, as exceeding the parking limit, and parking too near intersections and fire water hydrants. Most autoists pay the levy without argument but some ask for exoneration. In such cases the sergeant looks the autoist in the eyes and says, "You'll have to see the chief." He has no authority to excuse anyone from paying the fine for such offenses.

Police chronology for 24 hours ending 3:30 p. m. March 14, nineteen arrests on charges as follows: Violation of parking ordinance 10, drunkenness 4, keeper disorderly house 1, inmates disorderly house 2, visitor disorderly house 1, disorderly conduct 1.

Health comparison: First three months of 1933, approximately 85 cases of contagion were reported. Approximately 387 cases have been reported for the first three months of 1934, or more than for the entire year of 1933.

It is generally understood that in matters of policy the Cascade park commission lends an ear to the powers that be and if the same condition continues and no doubt it will, there will be no beer sold there this summer. No license to sell beer is held at the park.

A city policeman yesterday advanced the idea that a traffic court should be held here and that all violators of automobile laws should have to appear. In the event that the autoist did not agree that the charge was correct the arresting policeman would have to appear against the defendant. No policeman would like to break up a snooze to appear as a witness in city police court.

Come to think of it, wouldn't it be cheaper to place a rope in each cell and let the accused use his own judgment?

Speed Is Cause Of Higher Toll In Auto Crashes

Four Deaths Each Week
For Last Four Years
Result

HARRISBURG, Mar. 15.—In an appeal for accident reduction, Leon D. Metzger, secretary of revenue, today said Pennsylvanians are making an annually greater sacrifice of life and limb on the altar of speed.

"Speed—the mere thrill of driving faster to get nowhere—is hurrying more motorists to the hospital or grave each year," he said.

"In four years the number of deaths due to this cause has increased 150 per cent. In 1930 a total of 136 persons were killed in mishaps caused by driving too fast for the highway conditions. Last year, when there were considerably fewer cars on the road, the total was 337."

"The fatality records, showing four deaths every week during the last four years, tell only part of the story. The 31,691 accidents resulting from too much speed caused injuries to 24,136 persons—an average of 113 non-fatal injuries each week over the same period."

"There is the economic angle, too—the huge damage loss represented by wrecked cars. Frequently seen along the side of the road, the battered cars should serve as vivid reminders that too many people use the speed of their cars without judgment. They forget that present day automobiles, when improverly handled, have the same potentiality for destruction as a shell from a field artillery piece. They lose sight of the fact that, at a speed of 60 miles an hour, the impact of the car in an accident is the same as though the machine were dropped from the roof of a 10-story building.

"The thoughtless driver seems just as likely to drive fast when road conditions are hazardous as when they are reasonably safe. He blithely forces the throttle to the floor-board at night, despite the fact that headlights do not illuminate much more than 200 feet ahead of the average car."

"Records compiled by the Bureau of Highway Patrol and Safety prove that three and a half times as many accidents occur in the rush hours of the evening as in the rush hours of the morning. The evidence is there to show that motorists fail to recognize the dangers involved in night driving, but it does not impel the driver to be more afraid of the dark."

"One sure way to reduce accidents, and reduce them rapidly, would be for every driver to hold down the speed of his car five or 10 miles an hour below the pace he believes would be the fastest safe speed for the existing conditions. A few accidents are caused by driving too slowly, but the damage resulting is usually slight. It is in the matter of speed that Pennsylvanians are annually making the greatest sacrifice of life and limb."

HORSEMEAT VS. RABBITS

CHEYENNE, Wyo.—The Cheyenne Chamber of Commerce is considering a plan to go into the rabbit raising business. Three wolves in the city zoo have been eating dead horses, which cost $6 per head. The chamber estimated that it could raise enough jackrabbits to supply them with meat at a much lower cost per pound than had been paid for horse meat.

Resume Inquest In Train Crash At Pittsburgh

Chief Reason For Inquest Is To Prevent Similar Accidents On Railroad

CAUSE OF WRECK
NOT DETERMINED

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Mar. 15.—Pittsburgh's "preventative" inquest in connection with the Northside Pennsylvania railroad passenger train smash which cost 11 lives and brought injury to 39 others entered the second day of hearing here today.

Testimony offered thus far at the inquiry tends to bolster the contention that Engineer W. M. Shaw, New Castle, pilot of the ill-fated train, was either dead or unconscious when his train passed the switch which was either "frozen" or sprung by the crash.

Coroner W. J. McGregor explained that his chief purpose in holding the inquiry was to prevent similar accidents in the future. He said: "There is nothing anyone could do except the engineer. We are here to establish the cause of the wreck, because another might happen there under similar circumstances—yet all testimony here shows that it was the human element that failed."

Youngsters Tell Popularity Idea

(International News Service) BERKELEY, Cal. Mar. 15.—How to be popular at the age of 12?

After a comprehensive survey of the question, Dr. Caroline Tryon of the University of California reached some interesting conclusions, it was made known today.

Boys, of this age must be "quite civilized." Dirtiness she found was a mark of distinction. To be a "hot shot" in Junior high school, a boy must be noisy, talk a lot and be ready for a fight.

Girls, however, according to Mrs. Tryon, must be neat, clean and tidy to be popular. Good looks also add to her popularity.

Dr. Tryon obtained her results from 200 youngsters. They rated each other.

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Mar. 15.—Petitions were in circulation today for Lieut. Gov. Edward C. Shannon for the Republican gubernatorial nomination with reported instructions attached to circulators to get them signed within 48 hours.

It was not clear at the Capitol whether Shannon had authorized the circulation. Several state house workers received petitions, according to the reports.

Re-Employment Is Responsible For Circulation Loss

Stating that the causes were probably re-employment, the three-book limit and the shortage of new titles, Miss Alice M. Sterling reported to the board of trustees this week that the circulation of books in the New Castle free public library lost 23 per cent last month as compared to the circulation during the same period of time in 1933.

All agencies met a loss; Main, 28 per cent; Mahoning, 25 per cent; South Side, 16 per cent, and East Side, 11 per cent.

Says Sidewalks Are Below Grade

Due to somebody's blunder when the sidewalks were laid, J. H. McIlvenny told the school board Wednesday night that the walks in front of the McGill school were several feet below grade and held great pools of water when it rained.

"I move that this matter be brought to the attention of the City Council," said Mr. McIlvenny "and that they be asked to have the walks put in shape."

Suppose THAT CORD BROKE in your tire!

THIS is a machine for stretching cords the way they'll have to stretch in your tire—every time the tire rolls around, which means about 500 times a minute at 45 miles an hour.

Both cords have been stretched exactly the same—and then released.

Look at the farther cord. It's come back tight and straight again. That's Supertwist—the cord used in every ply of every Goodyear Tire.

Now look at that broken cord in the foreground—and think what might happen if you had cords like that in your tire!

There's a little lesson in safety that's won millions of people to Goodyears—because it shows, without a lot of empty claims, exactly how much better Goodyear protects you from blow-outs—and why you get longer average life from a Goodyear Tire.

If this sounds a little technical—we'll sum it up in this: More people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind—and of course that means more people buy them! How about you?

Stratosphere Holds No Terrors For Mrs. Piccard

(Copyright, 1931, By International News Service)

WILMINGTON, Del., Mar. 15.—The stratosphere holds no terrors for Mrs. Jean P. Piccard.

Far from being in dread of the dangers to which she will shortly expose herself, this courageous mother of two children is eager to go sailing into the mysterious upper regions with her famed husband, Jean P. Piccard.

Looking more like a housewife than an adventuresome feminine balloonist, Mrs. Piccard today told International News Service of her plans for the stratosphere flight she is to make next June with her husband.

"I am not at all afraid of the flight," she said calmly. "I will feel perfectly safe aloft."

In contrast to Mrs. August Piccard, wife of her brother-in-law, the Belgian scientist who first ascended into the stratosphere, Mrs. Jean Piccard does not content herself with merely approving the deeds of her husband in the interest of science.

Mrs. August Piccard once said she never wanted her husband to brave the perils of the stratosphere, but stifled her fears for the sake of scientific advancement.

Mrs. Jean Piccard is different. She has no fears of dangers besetting her husband. On the contrary, she is anxious to share the hazards. No trace of apprehension was visible in her clear, strong eyes as she said: "We are confident we will make a successful trip into the stratosphere where there is yet much to learn in the interest of science."

"My husband and I intend to ascend this summer, early in June probably. He will make the scientific researches while I man the balloon."

It will be the first excursion into the stratosphere of both Mr. and Mrs. Jean Piccard. Heretofore Mrs. Piccard, who had given much of her leisure time to writing, was content to sit below while her husband made balloon flights to track down the elusive cosmic ray. After the Fordney-Settle flight last autumn Mrs. Piccard decided her place was at her husband's side, even though her husband happened to be floating through space ten miles or more above the earth's surface.

Her noted brother-in-law, Dr. August Piccard, will remain on the ground, giving technical advice by radio while Mr. and Mrs. Jean Piccard are aloft.

"We are not positive where we will take off from," said Mrs. Piccard. "However, our takeoff will be made west of Akron, O., so that we will be far enough away from the ocean."

The Piccards will occupy the same gondola that was used in the Fordney-Settle flight.

"When my brother-in-law, August, made his first trip," related Mrs. Piccard, "he had one side of the gondola painted white and the other side black as a means of controlling the heat within the gondola. The black side was exposed to the sun and the heat in the gondola rose to 108 degrees Fahrenheit. On our trip we propose to have the bottom of the gondola painted black and the top white."

"In that way we will have warm feet and cool heads."

One Thousand Members Goal Of Y. W. Drive

Membership Campaign To Open April 4; Captains Have Meeting Called For Wednesday

TEN TEAMS WILL SHARE IN DRIVE

In preparation for the annual Y. W. C. A. campaign for new members which will open April 4 and close April 16, the newly appointed captains and co-captains had a meeting of importance at noon Wednesday in the office of Miss Margarette White, general secretary. One thousand members is the hoped for goal this year and the campaign leaders are confident of making the touchdown. At the present time there are 673 members and, if these take out renewal memberships, which is likely, an actual increase of 327 is all that is needed to make the thousand.

Dr. Mildred Rogers, general chairman, outlined the plan of campaign to the assembled captains. She said that there will be ten teams this year, each of which will be designated by one letter of the word "Fellowship". Fellowship is to be the keynote of the campaign. Each team, headed by a captain and co-captain, will be comprised of ten members, selected from the general membership of the association. Each team will try to secure 100 members (renewals and new). Although the drive will not be launched until April, the teams are at liberty to secure promises of memberships at once.

A luncheon for captains and workers will mark the official opening of the campaign, Wednesday, April 4.

Cost of general membership to the Young Women's Christian Association of New Castle is $1 for a year. Sustaining memberships are $5, $10 and $25. It has been emphasized at various times that membership is not required of women and girls in order that they use the Y. W. C. A.

facilities but it is hoped that all those engaged in the "Y" activities will desire to join the fellowship that is the composition of the association. Being actual members will provide an additional feeling of fellowship that nothing else could. Captains and co-captains who met yesterday are:

F—Mrs. Harry Reynolds, Mrs. L. C. Mantz.
E—Miss Frances Craig, Miss Elsie McGeorge.
L—Miss Jane Love, Mrs. W. H. Patterson.
I—Mrs. R. F. Horschler, Mrs. Mary Guy.
O—Mrs. J. W. Rhodes, Mrs. Glenn Berry.
W—Mrs. R. E. Sturdy, Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser.
S—Mrs. C. L. Mellinger, Mrs. F. E. Stough.

Seek Return Of License Money

Grove City Beer Sellers, Thwarted By Court, Want Money Back

GROVE CITY, Mar. 15.—First honors in the legal action instituted over revocation of 32 beer licenses here last December go to the dispensers as a result of an order made by Judge J. A. McLaughry today. The order requires County Treasurer George Lawrence to show cause why the petition of Eva M. Phillips of this city for the return of money paid for a license should not be granted. The order is returnable the first Monday of April.

A total of $550 was paid by Grove City dealers for 32 beer licenses, which were revoked by the Judge. The license money was paid over to Grove City Borough by the county treasurer. It is expected that the official will petition the court for a similar order, requiring Grove City Borough to return the money to him, in the event that the argument before Judge McLaughry is decided in favor of the dispensers.

Only one action was instituted by local dealers. Five others may go into court with a similar action if Mrs. Phillips is successful in securing a refund of the amount paid for her license.

School Board Has Lengthy Meeting

One of the longest meetings in months was held Wednesday night by the New Castle School Board. Bids for lumber, stoves, water coolers and sky lights occupied the attention of the members until nine thirty, while the budget for the coming school fiscal year and other routine matters took until twelve thirty.

The bids for the various equipment and materials, some twenty or thirty of them, were referred to the Building and Grounds committee. A special meeting of the board will be held Wednesday night, March 21 to let the bids.

Doug And Mary May Make Up Is Belief On Coast

Hollywood Folks Says Doug And Mary Will Soon Be Back At Pickfair Together

GOSSIPERS HAVE INNING ON COAST

By TED SMITHS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

(Copyright, 1934, By International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Mar. 15.—The pipes Douglas Fairbanks loved to smoke repose on his carefully dusted desk at Pickfair.

His favorite smoking tobacco remains fresh in its special humidors.

The books he liked to read still lie on the table of his den.

Everything is just as if he had walked out yesterday instead of a year ago.

No wonder Hollywood asks if the utterly unselfish love of Mary Pickford for Fairbanks has won an international game of hearts.

The palatial home of the famous couple has been called the "Royal Palace of Hollywood."

No Dust Gathers.

The fact that the heads of Pickfair are absent has caused no dust to gather at the famous estate.

Its immaculately kept grounds are as of yore. The same capable crew of servants "carry on."

True the glitter of entertainment has been absent the past few months since Miss Pickford went east. But until her departure she entertained much as was the case before Doug went abroad and the breach, which finally resulted in the filing of a divorce action by Miss Pickford, grew to painful proportions.

Hollywood Agog.

To say Hollywood is interested in the reports that a reconciliation is in the making between Doug and Mary would be to put it mildly.

Pickfair has been a Hollywood institution. It had no competitor in the unique social status it occupied as the home of Doug and Mary.

And there are no reigning social kings and queens of Hollywood now in the sense that Doug and Mary were.

It can be said that Hollywood sincerely hopes for Mary's sake the love story of Doug and Mary will have a happy ending—that "they lived happily ever afterward" will be written as the final of the troubles of the famous couple. If odds were being offered here they would strongly favor belief a reconciliation will come.

Returning To Coast.

It is known in Hollywood that Mary will be back at Pickfair within a month, possibly by April 1, unless a play takes her to Broadway.

And under present plans Doug will be back in Hollywood before the end of the summer—possibly sooner.

Friends of Fairbanks say emphatically that Doug never had any intention of becoming a British subject. They say he is working in England under the same basis as foreign stars working in Hollywood.

He is under contract to London Films, Ltd., for two pictures.

Significant of Fairbanks' intention to return to Hollywood, it was learned that Clarence Erickson, business manager of the Douglas Fairbanks Company, is arriving in New York from London within a day or so, enroute to Hollywood.

Mary has not given up her plans for further picture productions in Hollywood and it is expected here that one of the first things she will do on her return will be to start looking over stories with a view of finding one for early use.

And those who know Fairbanks well, believe that he will once more be making pictures in Hollywood.

And this Hollywood believes is a most favorable omen for reconciliation.

Not like others...

Even so... you can say Chesterfields are "not like others"

NO two people in the world look alike... act alike. So it is with tobacco... just like folks.

No two leaves are the same.

And it's the same with cigarettes...

no two brands are alike.

Furthermore, not only are the tobaccos different, but the way the tobaccos are handled is different.

This, you can understand.

You know just as well as we do that no two manufacturers use the same kinds of tobaccos, or blend them or cross-blend them or weld them together in the same manner.

We do everything that science knows and that money can buy to make CHESTERFIELD as good a cigarette as can be made.

We hope you like them. They are "not like others."

On Court House Hill

In the case of the Thayer Company, architects, against County Controller, R. C. McCaslin, papers in the appeal of McCaslin from the decision of the local court to the supreme court were forwarded to the higher court today by Prothonotary R. M. Campbell. This is the case in which Thayer issued a mandamus on the controller to pay a percentage of the architects fees alleged to be due for preparing preliminary plans for a new court house. Judge Hildebrand held that the fees should be paid.

It is expected that the case will come before the supreme court during the latter part of this month. Meanwhile there has been nothing further done toward the erection of a court house. Whether the contract which the Public Works Administration is preparing will be sent here for the signatures of the county commissioners before the supreme court hands down a decision is not known. The main point involved in the appeal is whether the controller is acting in a ministerial or discretionary capacity in passing upon the Thayer bill.

Will of the late Pietro Vessella of West Pittsburg, has been admitted to probate by Register and Recorder William R. Hanna. Vessella left all of his property to his wife, Mary Vessella, who is also named as executrix.

By the will of the late Luke Martin of Volant, all of his property is left to his wife, Olive M. Martin. Mrs. Martin is also named as executrix.

Under the will of the late Samuel W. Wilson of Wampum, all of decedent's property is left to his wife, Margaret Mytilde Wilson. Mrs. Wilson is executrix.

By the will of the late May V. Bell of the second ward, her property is left to her sons, R. W. E. Bell and Von Y. Bell. R. W. E. Bell is named as executor.

Real estate of C. F. Wilson, late of this city, is left to his son, Clarence E. Wilson, subject to existing indebtedness. The business operated by Mr. Wilson is left to his sons, Carl Wilson and Clarence C. Wilson. Other bequests are made to sons Howard and Loran, and grandson, Wilson Shoaf. Robert White is named as executor.

County Commissioners, sitting as a board of appeals, heard Ellwood City objections to property valuations yesterday. The commissioners completed holding appeals for all other districts some time ago. Ellwood, however, was the last to get in with assessments, and none of the wards were in when commissioners were acting on the balance of the county. A very thorough assessment has been made in Ellwood City this year, and from the few complaints heard yesterday, it is presumed that it is generally satisfactory. Ellwood City is installing a new registry system, so that hereafter deeds for borough property will be sent to Ellwood for record after they are recorded at the court house. This is the same system as is employed here. It will be of considerable value to Ellwood as it will enable residents to get property descriptions without coming to the court house.

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell has prepared the trial list for three terms of common pleas court to be held during the month of April. The first term will begin on Monday, April 2nd, the second on Monday, April 9th and the third on Monday, April 23rd. Thirty-nine cases have been placed on the list. Of this number fifteen are actions in assumpsit, sixteen are actions in trespass, four are feigned issues, one is in equity, two in replevin and one scire facias sur mortgage. After these cases are heard there will be no more common pleas sessions until after the first term will begin on Monday, October 8th. However there will be the intervening quarter sessions court in June, and motion and sentence court on dates to be announced.

DEFENSE FOR MOZESZ IS BEING PRESENTED

Case Will Likely End During Day

Mozesz Defense Is That Girl Died Trying To Prevent His Suicide

RELATIVES OF SLAIN GIRL ARE WITNESSES

"John Mozesz is not guilty of murder," Rose Balogh said in the result of trying to stop a suicide. This is a nutshell of the defense of Mozesz as outlined by Attorney Samuel L. Clark Wednesday afternoon in opening the case for his client.

The commonwealth rested its case at 4:20 o'clock, the last piece of evidence presented being some letters written to Rose Balogh by Mozesz and a statement secured from him in the hospital by Constable Frank Conner who was a guard.

In his outline to the jury Mr. Clark made no mention of emotional insanity. He told the jury that his client had a gun with him on the night of January 12 and that he met Rose Balogh on Long avenue and that in an endeavor to commit suicide Mozesz pulled a revolver out of his pocket and pointed it at his heart. Screaming, Rose Balogh grabbed for the gun and in the struggle the gun was discharged, the bullet entering her left breast near the heart. Mozesz then turned the gun on himself. "When you have heard these facts explained I think you will agree that John Mozesz is not guilty of the crime charged in the indictment," said Mr. Clark, "and we are confident that you will do justice."

Call Commonwealth Witness. Departing from the usual custom, Clark opened the defense by calling a witness who had testified for the commonwealth, Moses Cifo, the intermediary who endeavored to arrange a wedding between Mozesz and Rose Balogh. This followed Clark's statement to the jury that their case would be proved by the witnesses the commonwealth had called.

Cifo testified that Mozesz had come to his house in July, 1933, when he came to New Castle from Pittsburgh, Cal. With Cifo, Mozesz attended an ice cream social on the night of July 27 and there saw Rose Balogh for the first time.

"He asked me who she was," said Cifo, "and I introduced them for I knew the Baloghs and I knew Mozesz's parents. John then wanted to know if Rose had a beau and finding that she didn't, asked me if I would see if she would permit him to call."

"Later I went to the Balogh home at the request of John and said to them that he liked Rose and wanted to marry her. Mrs. Balogh said that they had just had a wedding in their home a month or so before and that she didn't want another one for at least a year."

Cifo said that the Baloghs had been friendly to Mozesz and had talked to him about the possibility of a wedding. They had all been friends, Cifo said, and Mozesz was a frequent visitor at the Balogh home.

Relatives Testify.

Relatives of the deceased girl were among the last witnesses for the commonwealth. John Balogh was recalled to identify the handwriting of Mozesz. He testified that he had seen Mozesz write his name once to an insurance application and could identify his handwriting. Clark objected on the ground that this was not sufficient and Judge Hildebrand sustained the objection. Dan Mozesz, a cousin of Mozesz, was called and said he was familiar with his writing and identified two letters written by Mozesz to Rose Balogh.

The letters were then offered in evidence but Clark questioned the translation of them by Rev. Andor Harsanyi, who had been interpreting the testimony of witnesses speaking in Hungarian. Upon examination Rev. Harsanyi admitted that he translated some letters previously but that he had had his wife aid him. He said that a literal translation in English was difficult inasmuch as there were some words in the Hungarian language which had no counterpart in English and that some of the words in the Hungarian language had several counterparts in the English language which might differ slightly.

Retired To Translate.

After some discussion District Attorney Alley agreed to permit Rev. Harsanyi to retire and work out the translation of the letters, which he did. Upon his return to the court room he said that several words in the letters were not understandable and he omitted these. Both letters to Rose Balogh contained veiled references to suicide and in one statement Mozesz said "a thousand pardons, but you have torn me from all worldly life on this earth." Examined by Clark, he admitted that the phrase might also read "You have torn me from all future life on this earth." The letters were admitted into evidence after being read to the jury.

A new statement taken from Mozesz was read into the records this being a statement taken by Constable Frank Conner while he was guarding Mozesz in the New Castle hospital. The statement was a broad one and gave the history of Mozesz from the time he came to the country and contained references to gifts purchased for Rose Balogh, money given to her for clothes, gifts for other members of the family, a statement of his love for her, their engagement and finally the disagreement on Long avenue. Concerning this the statement said that Mozesz was on the point of committing suicide when Rose grabbed the gun and in the struggle it went off.

Esther Balogh, a sister of the deceased girl, testified that at no time was there any engagement between Mozesz and her sister and that she had told him to stay away. Frank Balogh, a younger brother, testified that he had taken the presents of Mozesz back to him.

Indications are that the defense will rest its case some time today and if this is done early enough the jury may get the case for consideration late this afternoon.

Establish Rate For School Gym Rental

School Board Takes Action At Meeting On Wednesday Evening

In the future, basketball teams that use the gymnasiums of the schools will pay a rental of ten per cent of the gross receipts and in addition must post a bond of $50 to cover breakage inside the building. This action was taken Wednesday night by the New Castle School Board at its meeting following some discussion.

The discussion arose when the request of Alec Samuels for the use of the Washington gym was read. Director A. W. Bauman said, "I believe we should let out the gymnasium for games for it gives the people an opportunity to see some of the better teams in action."

Duff brought up the fact that a resolution was passed in January 1933, prohibiting the rental of gymnasiums. The board rescinded this action with Hyde and McIlvenny voting in the negative.

"I believe we should not rent out the gymnasiums to anybody," said Mr. Hyde. "We have found the gyms were damaged and for this reason it seems to me the matter should be left where it was."

The board then passed the motion setting a fee for the rental of the gym.

PERUVIAN WINES

INVADE U. S. MARKET

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Mar. 15. — A quarter million gallons of graded Peruvian wines and brandies are to invade the eastern American market at low cost, according to information reaching the Commerce Department.

Peruvian wines and brandies had a light foothold on the Pacific coast before prohibition, but none of its vintages have come to American shores since that time.

Until the world wide depression, Peru produced little more than enough vintages to supply its own needs, but now is seeking an outlet for a part of its normal output of 3,200,000 gallons.

Quota Unfilled For CMTC Places

Lawrence County youths who wish to make application for training during the coming summer in the CMTC, still have an opportunity, states Major W. Fulton Jackson, in charge of enrolling applicants from the local district.

In past years, there have been many more applicants than could be enlisted, and it is possible that some of the youths from Lawrence county have been discouraged over this fact. Application blanks may still be secured from Major Jackson for the 1934 training camps, which will be open from July 10 to August 8. Those making application for the basic course must be from 17 to 24 years of age.

Whose Fault?

Fitful Sleep or Bad Dreams

Fitful, fretful slumber and those "bad dreams" are sometimes caused by eating things hard to digest, or eating too near bedtime. But a more common cause is constipation. If clogged with waste, a child can't relax; the whole system becomes affected. You just can't give the ordinary cathartic at such an hour. (Indeed, laxatives of adult strength are never suitable for children.) See next column for a way to make the child comfortable for the night, and insure the needed bowel movement next morning:

Mussolini, Dollfuss, Gombos Discuss Important Central Europe Problems

ECONOMIC REPORTS STUDIED CLOSELY

By GUGLIELMO EMANUEL
International News Service Staff Correspondent
ROME, Mar. 15.—With preliminary talks behind them, Premier Benito Mussolini, Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss of Austria, and Premier Julius Gombos of Hungary settled down to concrete problems at an important meeting in Il Duce's Palazzo Venezia office today.
The three statesmen considered, specifically, the elaborate reports of their respective economic experts, which have been months in the preparing.
After the meeting, details of which were not announced, Premier Gombos and Chancellor Dollfuss went to the Quirinal Palace for an audience with King Victor Emmanuel.
Prime objectives of the Palazzo Venezia meeting were to find an economic means of insuring the independence of Austria and Hungary, and thus save Austria from German domination, and to increase the agricultural and industrial exports of the two countries.

Woman Congress Member Discusses Taxation Course

(Income tax payers, rushing to file their returns today, are wondering what the future holds in store for them. In the accompanying article a woman member of Congress analyzes the probable future course of taxation.)

By REP. FLORENCE KAHN
(Written Expressly for International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—The arrival of income-taxpaying time ought to be the signal to doff your hat to the average American who walks up to the window and pays Uncle Sam without quibbling. And it is a good time to consider the effect of taxes on the average family.
The man with a small income, particularly the salaried man has to pay. He doesn't have widespread interests which can be juggled so that he can take exemptions and avoid paying tax.
And it is probable that unless some relief is given he will be paying a great deal more in the next few years. The nation is incurring a tremendous deficit in meeting present day problems. The president estimated the deficit at more than $7,000,000,000 for the year ending June 30 and probably $2,000,000,000 next year.
It seems inevitable that heavy taxation is going to be the lot of Americans in the next few years. Some students believe that it is even possible that the middle class will be paying taxes similar to those paid in England. A man with a $2,000 income may find himself paying $400 to $500 a year income tax.
The very wealthy man has a great advantage under the income tax. First, his varied business interests make possible a shifting of the tax.
Or the very wealthy man can—and does—put money into tax-exempt bonds.
The inequities I have seen and learned of in talking to income tax examiners almost leads one to question the whole income tax system. It is least to ask whether it can be made just to all classes.

DO YOU KNOW

What makes your teeth turn dark without any sign of decay? Many patients are confronted with the problem of having a tooth turn dark without any sign of tooth decay.
Many factors govern this case which must be solved by reviewing previous conditions that may exist in each case.
However the main factor in cases of this kind is some previous injury.
An injury may occur while eating something hard. A blow by some foreign instrument or an accidental fall striking any of the front teeth will eventually if severe cause the death of the nerve with the result of the darkening of the tooth.
If a cavity is present it may proximate the nerve and in that way cause the death of the tooth. The nerve is the heart of the tooth and any undue shock may kill it.
Under certain conditions these teeth may be treated and the color now dark bleached to almost its former shade.
With the above factors in mind you should always remember that your teeth live and proper care should be taken to avoid such injuries.

QUESTION.
Miss Worried.—What caused my front tooth to turn dark? I find that it is a perfect tooth with no cavity.

ANSWER.
To your question explained above.

Verdict Of Guilty In Pesonen Case

In the case of the Commonwealth against Henry Pesonen, who was charged with aggravated assault and battery, which was tried at court before Judge James A. Chambers, jury returned a verdict of guilty as indicted. It was claimed that Pesonen got into an argument with Vaito Hytonen over the Bible and that Pesonen slashed Hytonen across the face with a bread knife.
Pesonen defended on the grounds that he had ordered Hytonen out of his house when the quarrel started, but that he had refused to go.

Man And Woman Under Arrest At Cincinnati

Hold Woman And Man For Fatal Shooting Of Two Men In Night Club

(International News Service)
CINCINNATI, O., Mar. 15.—Under arrest on murder warrants in connection with the fatal shooting of two men in a cafe brawl here Sunday, Mrs. Alice Reynolds, wife of the welterweight wrestling champion, and David "Dovey" Polinsky, former part-owner of a Cincinnati night club, maintained a close-lipped silence today.
Warrants for the arrest of Mrs. Reynolds and Polinsky were sworn out yesterday by Police Sergeant John Oman, leading the investigation into the fatal shooting of Philip Citron, reputed bookmaker, and James Meyers, described as a "small-time" politician.
The shooting climaxed a rough-and-tumble scrape following an argument in a cafe owned by Meyers early Sunday.
Arrested yesterday as she was leaving the coroner's inquest into the slaying, Mrs. Reynolds asserted, "I am not guilty," and then refused to comment further. Polinsky likewise refused to comment. Neither Mrs. Reynolds, Polinsky, nor Jack Reynolds, the wrestling champion, would testify at the inquest. All had been subpoenaed.

Kidnaping Victim Is Found Slain

Riddled Body Is Found, Police Learn That Manhattan Man Was Kidnaped

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Mar. 15.—Investigation of the "firing squad" murder on Long Island in which the blindfolded body of a man was found in front of an advertising sign riddled with bullets revealed that the murder was a kidnaping case rather than the usual gangland "ride" it was learned today.
When police identified the body through a tailor's label in the clothes as Max Kasoff, 37, at his home on the lower east side of Manhattan they found that the man had been missing a week and in the meantime a note demanding $5,000 for his release and two threatening telephone calls had been received.
The note demanded that the money be paid or Kasoff's body would be sent back "in pieces, an ear first."
Mrs. Ethel Peterson Allen, of N. Mercer street, will leave the latter part of the week for New York city to attend the International Convention of Beauticians.

Professors No More Forgetful Than Plumbers

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Mar. 15.—One swallow doesn't make a man drunk and so, by similar reasoning, neither does one absentminded professor prove that professors as a class are absent-minded.
Prof. A. R. Gilliland, head of the department of psychology at Northwestern University, recently pooh-poohed the legend of the wool-gathering professor, recently revived through the conduct of Prof. J. H. Robert Oppenheimer of the University of California.
Prof. Oppenheimer took a young woman for a drive, left her in the middle of it and walked home by himself. But he would have done the same thing, Prof. Gilliland maintained, if he had been a plumber.
The psychologist pointed out: "Until scientific research proves that professors are more absent-minded than other people, the charge against them must be taken lightly."
Prof. Gilliland denied that he contemplated making a study of the subject.

Spellers "Brush Up" For Old Time Contest

HARRISBURG, Mar. 15.—Old-time spellers in approximately 40 Pennsylvania counties are "brushing up" for the state championship spelling bee sponsored by the department of public instruction during the celebration of the free public school centennial in Harrisburg on April 4.

County superintendents in these counties have made preparations for selection of one representative and an alternate from each county. In most counties preliminary bees are being held Saturday, March 17, with county winners to be chosen Saturday, March 24.

Rules and regulations for conducting county eliminations are left entirely in the hands of county superintendents. Rules that will be followed in the state championship "spell-down" have been announced by Dr. James N. Rule, superintendent of public instruction.

The word list to be used in the final bee will be prepared from the metropolitan Sunday newspapers after all county eliminations have been held. There are indications that competition will be so keen that it may become necessary to supplement such a list with a special group of words known to old-time spellers by enthusiasts as "jaw breakers."

Participants in the final bee will be arranged alphabetically by counties which they represent. The speller will be expected to pronounce the word before he attempts to spell it. Correction of spelling will not be permitted after a word has been completed. The misspelled word will not be given to the next order. The pronouncer will be the judge of the correct spelling, subject to an appeal to the judges. Four judges will be selected, three of whom will be acting at all times. If a word admits of two spellings, these shall be determined by standard dictionaries.

Swick Will Vote To Override Veto On Bonus Measure

Will Vote To Pass Measure Over President's Head If Senate Approves

By ARTHUR C. WIMMER, Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 15.—Representative J. Howard Swick is prepared to vote to pass the bonus bill over the president's head in the event the senate approves the measure and President Roosevelt vetoes it.

Congressman Swick was one of the 59 Republicans who voted for the bonus bill when it passed the House this week. It is generally conceded that in the senate the measure will either be delayed indefinitely or killed. Congressman Swick, however, is in favor of showing the legislation through the Senate and in passing it over the president's head if he vetoes it.

For the first time in his career, Senator David A. Reed of Pennsylvania is prepared to vote for the bonus legislation.

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting

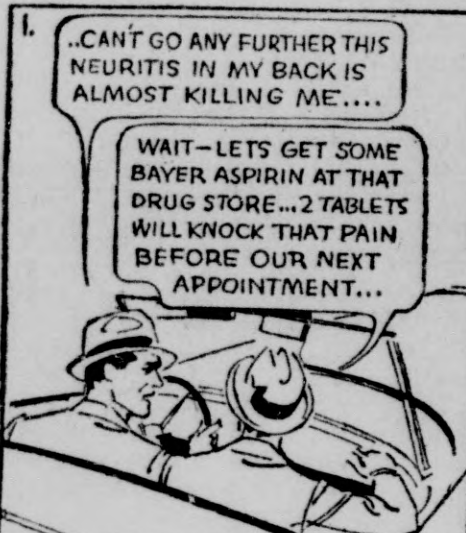

Thousands of sufferers from itching, bleeding or protruding piles have learned that quick and lasting relief can be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor cutting remove the cause.

Bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts lifeless. To cure Piles an internal medicine should be used to stimulate the circulation, heal and restore the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was the first to discover a real internal Pile remedy. He called his prescription HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for hundreds of patients with a marvelous record of success and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID tablets from their own druggist with a rigid money back guarantee.

So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when Eckerd's Cut Rate and New Castle Drug Co. says "No matter what kind of Piles you have, one bottle of HEM-ROID tablets must show you the safe clean way to get rid of your Pile misery or money-back."

Now Ease Neuritis in Few Minutes

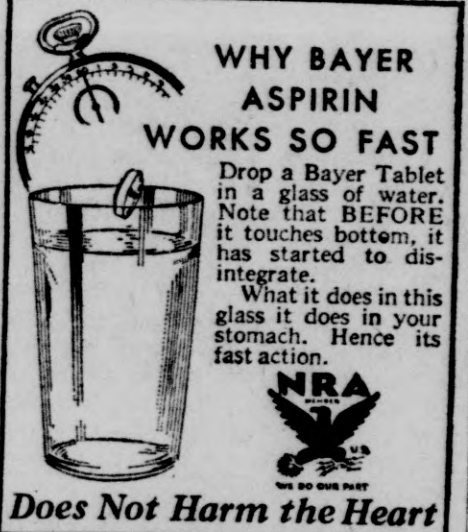

For Quick Relief Say "Bayer Aspirin" When You Buy

Here is quicker relief from pain—the fastest safe relief, it is said, ever known. This is due to a scientific discovery by which BAYER Aspirin starts "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.

The illustration of the glass here tells the story. A Bayer Aspirin tablet starts to dissolve—go to work—almost instantly. This means quick relief from pain—fewer lost hours from headache, neuritis, rheumatism. And safe relief. For genuine Bayer Aspirin does not harm the heart.

When you buy, see that you get the genuine Bayer Aspirin. The best way is never to ask for aspirin by the name "aspirin" alone. But if you want Bayer Aspirin's quick relief always to say "BAYER Aspirin."

OUT OF THE MASS GROUP INTO THE CLASS GROUP

... for a few dollars more a month!

The 2-Door Sedan—List Price at Pontiac, Michigan, $725.*

The whole ideal of American life is built around the philosophy that tomorrow will be better than today!

Day after day, we hear people say—"I'm so glad I decided to purchase a Pontiac Eight! It is such a satisfaction to feel that we have something more than mere transportation."

This extra measure of satisfaction, of course, is strictly a plus value when you buy a new Pontiac Straight Eight.

For, purely on the basis of what the car itself provides—it is the most logical car in America for anyone to buy.

First of all, Pontiac is a big car—with a wheelbase of 117 inches—and big, roomy bodies by Fisher.

It is powered by the great Pontiac "Speedway Eight" engine—one of the finest motors in use today.

It rides, with its new "Knee-Action" wheels, with amazing comfort on any road.

And, finally, it is one of the two most beautiful cars in America today—absolutely regardless of cost.

Certainly, it's a pleasure to own the new Pontiac. For it is unmistakable that the man who drives a Pontiac has gone out of the mass group into the class group.

And yet—it costs practically nothing to take this step. When bought on time payment, the difference between the cheapest cars and the Pontiac is frequently not more than a few dollars a month.

Come in for a demonstration. Let us show you how easy it is to step up to "Straight Eight" ownership!

Braves Lacking Hitting Power; McKechnie Sad

Manager McKechnie Would Like To Know How To Make His Players Hit

PITCHING STAFF BEST IN LEAGUE

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 15.—As near as I can find out today, the Boston Braves will be making a trade for an infielder almost any day now. It isn't a case of a deal being on. They abandoned one with Brooklyn some time ago and, with the change in Dodger management from the Christian Endeavor to the whoop-de-doo system, the Braves now have no idea of the deal being revived. Nevertheless, I'll venture the prediction that they'll make one somewhere, my reasoning being elemental, fundamental, colossal and, in fact, pretty good. Briefly, they'll make the deal because they must.

There are only five infielders on the roster and, when you're not on the roster in spring training, the fact is a little suggestive. It means that you'll soon be on somebody's scenic railway, with the Sunday short in one hand and the one-way ticket in the other.

Five Sure To Stick
Unfortunately, the five who seem sure of their jobs are, by the very nature of things, five men who shouldn't be. They are Barry Jordan, first baseman, who hit .286; Rabbit Maravilla, elderly second baseman who hit .218; Bill Urban, shortstop, who hit .251; "Pinky" Whitney, third baseman, who hit .250 and Dick Yselman, extra man, who hit .238. I wouldn't want to say that the Braves can't start with what they have. The rules, in fact, say they must.

"But when you try to talk business," said William McKechnie, manager, coach and philosopher in the order named today, "they want some of those."

His gesture in the direction of his pitchers was eloquent, also a trifle bitter.

Good Pitchers
He's rather not give any part of that pitching staff. It pitched him into fourth place last year; it's about all he has. Barring Berger, who hit .313 and Randy Moore, who hit .302, the rest couldn't hit the edge of the infield on the second bounce.

McKechnie also said that Bob Brown, the pitcher, would make a lot of difference. But the Braves do not need pitching. They have plenty in Ben Cantwell, Fred Frankhouse, Ed Brandt, Walter Betts, Brown, Bob Smith and Tom Zachary, in addition to which they have some completely well-wired by adding Steve Swenson, from the Pirates.

So, if Brown never pitched another ball, nobody but his nearest kin could possibly miss him and, besides, the rules say that, no matter how many pitchers you have, you can only use one at a time.

The fact is that the catchers, J. Francis Hogan, the milk-fed boy, and Al Spolter, the second man, either do not or did not hit, and that outfielders Joe Mowry, up from Minneapolis, and Rupert Thompson, up from Albany, obliged with .221 and .186 in Boston last year. So what? That's what Mr. McKechnie would like to know.

Whitney Is Good
He thinks Thompson is a great ball player. Mr. McKechnie also is impressed with the fact that everybody says that Mowry is bound to hit. There is the further fact that Whitney, obtained from the Phillies, was always higher than .250 and that, since coming here, he has climbed all over everybody's pitching.

But training camp hitting is like the good nickel cigar. It carries no guarantee and neither does the proposed attempt on the part of Mr. McKechnie to make an infielder out of Hal Lee.

As a matter of record, Mr. McKechnie says not have to string with the Cardinals and Cubs will be tough ones to beat. This, I'd say, proves that Mr. McKechnie is the strongest man on the Boston club. He at least knows what he hasn't got.

Remodeling Of Clubhouse Will Be Started As CWA Project Today

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 15.—Last night's party at the Municipal course clubhouse when McCoy and Nugent were hosts to the golfers of the city, will be the last for a month, due to remodeling operations which will get under way today as a CWA project.

The two front rooms of the clubhouse will be turned into one large room. A large hall separates the two rooms, and the partitions are to be torn out. This will provide a room which can accommodate about 50 or more couples for dancing and make a larger assembly room.

In addition, the parking space at the Muni course will be improved as well as the road leading into the grounds.

The party last evening was one of the most enjoyable held this winter and Jack McCoy and Frank Nugent proved real hosts. The entertainment was furnished by George LeConte, of Weirton, W. Va., former local boy and his educated accord, while a Hill Billy orchestra from Wierton also gave a number of entertaining numbers.

At the next party, the Golf League officials will be hosts at a spaghetti dinner.

OAKLAND, Cal., Mar. 15.—Barney Ross, lightweight and junior welterweight champion, scored an easy ten round decision here last night over Kid Morro, a Filipino.

State Athletic Commission and the A. A. U. are on the mat with each trying to get a lasting hold. As a result of boxers of several Pittsburgh clubs having withdrawn from an amateur show there Tuesday night, the commissioner of the state body has suspended the clubs represented by the boxers. The boys withdrew because, had they participated they would have been suspended by the A. A. U. It is also reported that William S. Haddock and John T. Taylor of the A. A. U. will be called before the commissioners at its meeting next Wednesday in Philadelphia. In announcing banishment of the Pittsburgh Clubs, the commissioner said there were "long standing evils in the conduct of amateur boxing and the commission was determined to clean up the situation."

The National Indoor tennis championships at New York City drew to a near close last night and Gregory Mangin and Frank Shields last year's finalists may end up in the finals again this year. Mangin, the title holder won from Andre Merit the remaining Frenchman, 6-2, 6-3, -4, and Shields beat Dr. Eugene McCauliff 6-1, 6-1, 6-3.

Albert Alcroft professional at the Youngstown Country Club has a hole in one. He scored his ace on the number six hole a 245 yard, par 3 hole.

State Athletic Commission and the A. A. U. are on the mat with each trying to get a lasting hold. As a result of boxers of several Pittsburgh clubs having withdrawn from an amateur show there Tuesday night, the commissioner of the state body has suspended the clubs represented by the boxers. The boys withdrew because, had they participated they would have been suspended by the A. A. U. It is also reported that William S. Haddock and John T. Taylor of the A. A. U. will be called before the commissioners at its meeting next Wednesday in Philadelphia. In announcing banishment of the Pittsburgh Clubs, the commissioner said there were "long standing evils in the conduct of amateur boxing and the commission was determined to clean up the situation."

The National Indoor tennis championships at New York City drew to a near close last night and Gregory Mangin and Frank Shields last year's finalists may end up in the finals again this year. Mangin, the title holder won from Andre Merit the remaining Frenchman, 6-2, 6-3, -4, and Shields beat Dr. Eugene McCauliff 6-1, 6-1, 6-3.

Albert Alcroft professional at the Youngstown Country Club has a hole in one. He scored his ace on the number six hole a 245 yard, par 3 hole.

Tiger Star Fooled His Track Coach

Bonthron Just Another Runner At Northern High

(International News Service)
DETROIT, Mich., Mar. 15.—Bill Bonthron who recently grabbed himself pages of publicity as Princeton's star miller, was just an ordinary member of the track squad when he attended Northern High school here in 1928.

Bill reported for outdoor track that year and aside from finishing fourth in the city meet's mile race and eighth in the state meet at Ann Arbor he was just "one of the boys" to Lawrence Chickering, former Northern coach.

"I can't remember him distinctly," Chickering said when asked about the Great Bonthron's training under him. "I remember the name and I probably could identify his picture but I can't recall his track record."

"Bill, as I remember, showed promise of becoming a fair runner but I never figured Bonthron of Princeton could be the same one I coached. He barely won a letter."

Jimmy Russell, an ex-team mate, "just" remembers Bill as an athlete. "He had an awfully hard stride," Russell said. "He didn't know how to run but he always pushed those legs of his over a lot of ground at the stretch."

Ambridge High Tops Duquesne

Winne, Drago and Michelosen were the stars for the "Bridgers" last night, with Koehran and Krenitsky the stars for the Dukes. The Ambridge team scored its victory by piling up a commanding lead in the first two periods of the battle. The Dukes had the better of the going in the final periods.

Mining Shares Show Weakness In Opening Today;

SPECIALTY SHARES
ARE QUITE ACTIVE

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Mar. 15.—The stock market was highly irregular today with the mining shares weak, while the liquor shares tended higher.
United States Smelting was the outstanding target for selling in the mining shares, losing more than 3 points before meeting with support. This brought sympathetic selling into the other mining shares including Alaska, Juneau and Dome.
Schenley was the strong spot in the liquor shares, gaining about a point, while National Distillers and American Commercial Alcohols were somewhat sluggish.
Specialty shares were quite active with Beneficial Industrial Loan gaining fractionally.
Farm shares were quiet with Case, Sears, Roebuck and Montgomery Ward moving in a narrow range around their previous close.
United States Steel and other industrial stocks including Bethlehem and American Can continued to give a relatively poor account of themselves with trading narrow. Automobile shares continued to mark time pending a clarification of the labor situation in Washington.
The commodity markets were inclined to be listless and furnished no stimulus for stocks. Wheat was slightly easier, corn was steady and cotton was virtually unchanged from yesterday's close.

Asks Return Of
$1,000 Cash BondAction Is Filed In Court To Force Return Of Money
Allegedly Given

In an action in assumpsit filed in the office of Prothonotary Ralph M. Campbell, John Foley of Ellwood City asks the return of $1,000 given to Attorney M. J. Kraus of Ellwood City, which was to have been used for cash bail for William Foley.
In the action filed it is stated that in October, 1933, William Foley was charged with a crime, "the said crime being distinct from the crime under which William Foley was arrested and committed to jail."
It is stated that Mr. Kraus asked John Foley, who was bailor's surety for William Foley, to give him $1,000 in cash to be deposited as cash bail in addition to a $1,000 bail bond on which said John Foley was bailor's surety.
A copy of a receipt which is a part of the action shows that the cash was given to Mr. Kraus and in the event it was not deposited as cash bail was to be returned to John Foley.
The cash was never deposited as bail it is claimed, and Mr. Foley declares he has repeatedly asked for the return of the money but it has not been returned. He asks the return of the $1,000 and interest from October 18, 1933.

$50,000 Damages
In False Arrest

(International News Service)
FRANKFURT, Ky., Mar. 15.—Alleging false arrest and imprisonment, L. Vance Armentrout, acting editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, today filed suit in Franklin circuit court here against members of the lobby investigating committee of the State House of Representatives for $50,000 damages.
Seven state representatives are on the committee, which jailed Armentrout when he declined to divulge the identity of the writer of an article in his newspaper criticizing the legislature's leaders. The editor was released on a writ of habeas corpus after an hour's imprisonment and subsequently was tried by another house committee, found in contempt and fined $25.
Armentrout announced he would not pay the fine and invited the state to sue him.

On March 31Works Division Will Replace CWA As Means Of Providing Relief To Jobless

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Mar. 15.—CWA will go out of existence in Pennsylvania on March 31 and will be replaced by a works division to be created within the state emergency relief administration, Eric H. Biddle, chief of both CWA and relief, announced today.
The announcement came in the form of detailed instructions as to procedure sent to all civil works administrators in the state, and is based upon the recent program for continuance of work relief announced by President Roosevelt.
CWA projects not completed by the end of this month will be transferred to the works division for completion, Biddle said, if approved by Harrisburg headquarters. The new program of work will be carried forward only in cities of more than 5,000 population and in counties determined "predominantly urban."

A maximum 24-hour week will be in effect on all work under the new program, pay will be determined at the prevailing rate of the locality in which work is done but shall not be less than 30 cents an hour.
Persons employed on civil works on the date of suspension may be transferred to the works division, Biddle said. "This division will maintain a separate local organization and CWA administrators will become directors of the works divisions in their counties."
"It will not be allowable to include such projects as garbage collection, snow removal, street cleaning and lawn maintenance in the new program."
A special meeting of the state emergency relief board will be held this afternoon to discuss the program in detail.

Denies Failure To Render AssistanceFrank Dambrosi On Trial At Court In Connection With
Auto Accident

Frank Dambrosi, charged with failure to stop and render assistance and refusal to give his name and address, following an automobile accident, was placed on trial before Judge James A. Chambers at county court today. The accident happened on the New Castle-Wampum road near the Piedmont farm.
The cars of Mr. Dambrosi, Perry township, and Joe Gordon of Beaver Falls, were going south, the Dambrosi car being behind the Gordon car. It was raining and snowing to such an extent that snowdrifts on the windshields, and the cars were proceeding slowly. A third car passes the Dambrosi and Gordon cars, and a few moments after the Dambrosi car ran into the Gordon car and the front bumpers of the Dambrosi car locked with the back bumpers of the Gordon car.
Occupants of the Gordon car were considerably shaken up and one woman was knocked unconscious. Occupants of the Dambrosi car claim that the driver of the Dambrosi car failed to render assistance, and after the cars were untangled drove away.
Frank Dambrosi and his sons Alfonso and Samuel, who were in the Dambrosi car, all maintain that Dambrosi, the driver, had not been drinking. They claim further that they waited until the woman who was unconscious, regained consciousness and heard her say that she was not hurt. They further claim that they had asked the occupants of the Gordon car if they had secured the license plate number of the Dambrosi car, and received an affirmative answer. They claim that they were not asked for their names.

More Income Tax Returns
Show 1933 Better Year;
Reports Are Due Tonight

Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue Paul B. McCandless, busy today giving advice to Lawrence county's last-minute income tax filers, is convinced that 1933 conditions were far better than were 1932 conditions inasmuch as filing work indicates it. Mr. McCandless reported that in Lawrence county this year there was a considerable increase in the number of individuals filing returns.
At the postoffice the deputy collector and an aide will continue to give help to filers until the deadline hour for filing papers—midnight tonight. They will be located in Acting Postmaster Richard A. Steen's office.
While this week has brought a small army of inquirers to Mr. McCandless for information on income tax details, the number of callers dropped sharply today. There was a steady group of visitors but not the waiting groups that were to be seen at the office earlier in the week.
Income tax returns not already filed may be left with Deputy Collector McCandless tonight for dispatch to Washington.

New Road Work
Will Be Favored

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 15.—Improvement of the Ellwood-Koppel road by mid-summer is expected by proponents of the project due to the fact that at a court hearing held recently at the Beaver court house, no objections to the proposed changes were voiced by residents who will be affected by the changes.
The hearing was held to give property owners affected by the re-routing of several stretches of the road an opportunity to express their opinions and views of the proposed improvements.
The next step will be for viewers to appear before the court and approve the project. Work will probably be started in the spring and it is expected that the State Highway department will co-operate.
Both Lawrence and Beaver county commissioners view the improvement favorably. The Harmony bridge, which will be used in the new "short cut," will remain a toll bridge until such time as the state decides to take over the road.

Maybe They Want
Special Numbers

HARRISBURG, Mar. 15.—Those farseeing folks who believe in doing their Christmas shopping early, are also on the job in getting their motor vehicle license plates.
Although some 350,000 cars have not yet been licensed for 1934, the Bureau of Motor Vehicles has received seven requests for 1935 plates.
To the bureau, which for several months will be engaged principally in licensing cars for use this year, such requests mean just so much unnecessary correspondence. Officials emphasize that the bureau is not prepared to handle requests so far in advance and will not attempt to do so.

Decide To Expand CWA School Work

Impressed by the results of CWA labor on and about school properties, the New Castle school board voted to further expand the work on Wednesday night when the board met. Some further roofing jobs are to be done, the wiring system in a number of schools needs replaced, and more painting is to be done. Some time ago the board pledged itself to expend up to $17,000 for materials for CWA work. All but about $4000 of this is gone but the results achieved by the expenditure are several times that much. The additional work to be done by the board will mean an expenditure of about $6000 or over and above what has already been used, or about $2000 over the original commitment. "Doing this work with CWA labor is a fine thing," said J. H. McIlvenny. "The workmanship displayed is of a high calibre and it occurs to me that we should take advantage of this opportunity as far as possible. The work that is projected would cost several times as much in a year or so and would have to be done. I think we should put this extra money in and get all the work done now that we can." The board voted to make the additional improvements and the money will be expended.

Beer Licenses Are Explained

Those Selling Hard Liquor
And Beer Do Not Need
New Beer Licenses

BEER PERMITS EXPIRE JUNE 1

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Mar. 15.—Beer retailers who added hard liquors to their wares and procured liquor licenses from the state control board are not required to renew their beer licenses upon expiration June 1, it was learned today. Permission to sell malt drinks as well as liquors is included in licenses issued by the control board under the McClure act passed by the legislature last November, it was explained. Taproom proprietors dispensing beer alone, however, must renew their beer licenses through county treasurers. The procedure that became effective last year with the return of beer remains unchanged under the McClure act. The demand for retail beer licenses is expected to slump heavily as a result of the return of liquor and the new state liquor licensing laws. Discussing the licensing situation, Robert S. Gawthrop, chairman of the liquor control board, said: "There is no conflict in the laws. Establishments with liquor licenses obtained from the board are authorized to sell liquor and beer until the end of this year on those licenses. Establishments that are not selling liquor must renew their beer licenses June 1." Almost one-third of the state's beer selling establishments have obtained liquor licenses since the advent of repeal, according to the board's statistics. The current total is about 7200 as compared with 22,000 beer licenses issued last June.

Note To All Cooks Be Kind To Eggs

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Mar. 15.—Here's something for housewives to shoot at: Dr. Louise Stanley, chief of the bureau of home economics of the United States department of agriculture, knows a thousand ways to prepare an egg for breakfast. She left a suggestion here, in a speech for housewives to remember in cooking eggs. It was: "Don't rush the eggs." She said eggs must be cooked slowly and with dignity. None of this slapping them in the pan and getting it over with.

Checking Up On Army Air Corps

Thorough Check Being Made Before Resumption
Of Mail Service

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—President Roosevelt has asked for a thorough checkup on army air corps equipment and personnel by no less a person than the chief of the air corps, Maj. Gen. Benjamin D. Foulois, before resuming operation of a curtailed airmail schedule. This explains the delay in air corps operation of the skeleton schedule. Foulois has started his inspection tour. Another 24 hours may elapse before air corps ships are released for airmail flights. Mr. Roosevelt is giving major portion of his time and thought to aviation now. He is convinced that the federal aviation policy for the past decade has been wrong. He is intent upon working out a policy which will improve all phases of flying. As a consequence, the major portion of the $10,000,000 which the president asked of congress for the air corps, and which the senate has already approved will go for experimentation and training. The president believes that many commercial fliers have valuable experience which they may communicate to army fliers. He plans to spend part of the expected $10,000,000 providing this training.

Three Filipinos Are Arrested In Extortion Plot

Two In New Orleans And One
In St. Louis Held For Plot
Against Brewer Heir

(International News Service) ST. LOUIS, Mar. 15.—Three Filipinos were arrested today—two in New Orleans and one here—in connection with a plot to extort money from Louis A. Hager, Jr., wealthy manufacturer, under threats to kidnap his 3 year old son Louis, 3rd, grandson of the late August A. Busch millionaire brewer. The pair held in New Orleans are Manuel C. Lopez, 25, former chauffeur for the Hagers and Andrew Haine, 20. The third man is George Cubano, 25. They are held for violation of the Cochrane Act, which has to do with sending extortion letters through the mails. The extortion plot recalled the kidnapping of another of Busch's grandsons, youthful Adolphus Busch Orthwein, on December 31, 1931. The Orthwein boy was returned unharmed after being held only a day. His kidnaper, a negro, was arrested and sentenced to prison.
